

ELIZABETH PUBLIC LIBRARY
PRESENTS:

CARNEGIE LIBRARY TOURS

During the early 20th Century, Industrialist Andrew Carnegie provided funds for the construction of 36 public libraries throughout the State of New Jersey. Of the original six located in Union County, The Elizabeth Public Library, which opened in 1912, remains the only Carnegie Library Building still in use today.

Join us during Union County's Four Centuries in a Weekend as we provide historical tours of this grand Carnegie Library and learn about the individuals involved in the design and construction of this architectural gem.
